Experiments

A doctor, if he is a good doctor, is by nature averse to experimenting upon his patients. This is no typographical error. A doctor really hates to experiment upon anybody. But everybody certainly loves to be experimented on, and the doctor is sometimes forced to do it, or else become unpopular. That's the honest truth. If a doctor refuses under any circumstances to experiment unnecessarily upon his patients, people call him a crank, a crab, a mean, unaccommodating sort of man. They declare that he attempts to magnify your minor ailments into major ones, if you give him the chance.

Let's take a plain example. You that it is just your stomach that troubles you—and he grabs his stethoscope and listens anxiously to the action of your heart.

"Right here is where I am distressed," you persist, indicating the pit of your stomach. "Nothing wrong with my chest." And your manner more than your verbal interference with the doctor's examination tells him plainly that you are one of the large class of people who enjoy poking at the stomach when they are developing incipient tuberculosis, heart failure or Bright's disease, for instance. You belong to the majority who feel flattered if the doctor agrees with their own version of the trouble and a trifle piqued if he doesn't. So, much as the doctor would like to go ahead and make a thorough and complete examination, he dare not.

I DON'T WANT ANY EXAMINATION. ITS JUST A LITTLE TROUBLE I'M HAVING WITH MY STOMACH. AND I WANT YOU TO GIVE ME SOMETHING TO PUT IT BACK IN WORKING ORDER.

WHO'S DOING THIS?

have, we shall say, what you think is a little stomach trouble. You have conscientiously tried every old nostrum any fool has recommended, and finding no relief worth mentioning, you go to see the doctor. You tell him your stomach is a little below par and that you want something to help assimilate your food. That's the ticket—something to assimilate your food.

Oh, if there were only something that would make us assimilate all our food, what a large, exciting life ours would be. There would be constant tension, hearty eating folks blowing up and bursting everywhere. Think of all the food we eat and imagine what a calamity it would be if we had to assimilate so much.

Well, the doctor lays you out comfortably on his examining table and begins to paw you over, evidently with grave suspicions of your appendix, your gall-sac, your kidneys and things. Once more you remind him for it is practically certain you would protest against paying the fee for honest service. You want the doctor to guess at what is wrong with you; you are willing to pay him for a guess, but you do not as yet feel that your case is serious enough to warrant a greater investment than that. In short, you are bound to have your little experiment, and if the present doctor refuses to experiment upon you, then you'll soon find one who will. It appears to be human nature for each of us to assume that his own individual symptoms are not very serious, that tuberculosis, heart failure, Bright's disease, cancer and things happen right along among one's friends but surely will not afflict one's own self. A foolish sort of logic, but nevertheless popular. And the tireless patient medicine fakers spare no pains to perpetuate just such a false feeling of security, because as long as an individual does not know just what is the matter he is a good prospect as a nibbler at the nimble nostrum.

It Cost Just 20 Cents More To Produce the Big One than it did the Runt

THE BIG ONE WAS FED AVALON FARMS HOG-TONE
—The Liquid Hog Conditioner, Fattener and Worm Remover—
—THE RUNT WASN'T

THEY both started life at the same time and weight. They were given the same feed under the same conditions - with one exception. The big one got his regular dose of AVALON FARMS HOG-TONE—the Liquid Hog Tonic, Conditioner and Fattener—and the runt didn't. The big one is the kind that tops markets and brings big profits to the pockets of the hog raiser. The runt cost more to raise than he will ever bring in the market. And the difference was brought about by 20 cents worth of AVALON FARMS HOG-TONE. HOG-TONE puts new life into hogs—makes them eat more and grow fat at an amazing rate. It helps them to combat disease and eliminate the worms that are the hog raiser's greatest foe to profits. Splendid for pregnant sows—helps to produce healthier, sturdier pigs. Come in the store—tell us the number of your herd—and we will give you enough HOG-TONE to treat all your hogs 60 days. You don't give us a penny now. If the results of the HOG-TONE treatment fail to satisfy you, it will cost you nothing.
